

A still life composition featuring a ceramic stove with a fire, a vase with chopsticks, and a potted plant. The stove is a dark, round, ceramic piece with a white base and a dark top. Inside the stove, a fire is burning brightly, with orange and red flames and black charred wood. The stove sits on a piece of light-colored wood. To the left of the stove is a potted plant with green leaves and red flowers, in a white, textured pot. To the right of the stove is a blue and green ceramic vase containing several wooden chopsticks. The background is dark and out of focus.

Love is like a friendship caught on fire. In the beginning a flame, very pretty, often hot and fierce, but still only light and flickering. As love grows older, our hearts mature and our love becomes as coals, deep-burning and unquenchable.

—Bruce Lee